PINE MANOR COMMUNITY CENTER IS "LOCAL SAFE PLACE"

Pine Manor Community Center partners with Lutheran Services and provides Safe Place to reach youth in the early stage of crisis. Young people are provided with non-threatening place.
 This is a community initiative to educated young people about the dangers of trying to resolve difficult, threatening situations on their own. It is estimated that over two million young people run away each year, on the streets these youth are at risk, more likely to commit suicide, become victims of crimes or perpetrate crimes. Increasing numbers of kids are also being put of their homes by disinterested, frustrated or abusive parents.

Our mission is to improve the neighborhood by developing effective, cost efficient, holistic neighborhood revitalization strategies designed to provide decent, affordable housing, suitable living environments and expand economic opportunities to our residents.

Jim Yarnes from Lee County Health Department Presents
Teen Workshop on STD's & Prevention

April 15, 2011 6:30–7:30

So much wrong information about sexually transmitted diseases gets passed around it's no surprise that diseases do too! Of course the only way to be 100% sure you won't get an STD like herpes, chlamydia or HIV is not to have any type of sex (abstinence).

19 million infections this year and 1/2 of those will be young adults ages 13-24!

Cindy Romeis from Lee County Health Department Discussion on Teen Pregnancy & Prevention

April 17, 2011

5:30-7:00 Teen Girls & 7:00-8:30 Teen Boys

Research has shown that science-based, comprehensive sexuality education, contraceptive access and youth development programs can help young people make choices that can protect them from pregnancy.
